

NO SHARING?

NO PROBLEM!

Take Me with You

When signatures are required at banks, on medical forms, legal documents, etc., sharing pens is not ideal as we strive to reduce the use of communal items. Providing clientele with pens for personal use is a step in the right direction.

You can further enforce your commitment to support the prevention of germ transfer by including a cello sleeve on your practical giveaways. The use of cello wrapping can help repel the spread of bacteria and the clear wrap will protect your personal use item until unwrapped by the recipient. Encourage clients to take the pen with them for continued personal use.
